

The enemy within!!

I knew I had to write today, but man did I fight it hard!!

I'm in a quiet place and really not wanting to come out and talk at all, but my spirit has been rumbling all day and finally had to submit to what I am feeling. It is national news that someone tried to set a bomb off in NYC last week. They described the person as an American pass port holder, with a wife, two children and he was educated with an MBA. He has a 3 bedroom suburban home, and was a financial analyst. This person walked among us, but was not of us.

Romans 1:20) For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse:

21) Because that, when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful; but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened.

What a mouth full in scripture. A darkened heart is what we are dealing with on many levels! Those who act like they are enlightened, but in reality have another agenda that does not match Gods agenda. And these who are evil walk among us. They don't have evil written on their head or chest, but the manifestation of evil will come and that suddenly.

What happened last week was a manifestation of what is happening spiritually. We are going to church with people who have no intention of changing. They sit among us, but really, they are agents of the devil and if you have no discernment, you will think that because they pray, speak in tongues, preach, sing in the choir, usher, or are on some board that they are of those who have been accepted into the beloved. WOE!!! I speak to you today.

I have been telling you all of an impending judgment being released in America. Not just America but the nations of the world. You cannot turn your back on God, walk away and act like he is not Lord of Lords and King of Kings and think a fall is not coming.

The shaking is taking place now and only those things that cannot be shaken will remain.

So, last week's attempt to rock the nation failed, but do you think it will be the last attempt? Well, let me ask you this, Did 911 change us? Have the warning signs to turn turned us?

NO is my answer.

We are still religious, self righteous, self centered, controlling, manipulative, and blind!!!

We hate it when truth comes! We hate to feel convicted and we really hate dealing with what is coming upon us. This is why God is raising relentless messengers up right NOW! Those who will set their faces as a flint and will speak what God is speaking. Enough of the sermons and weak bible studies. The word is in the mouth of those sitting in the pews!! Those who have been listening and hearing for years, they have a word in their mouths and if the preachers of this day don't wake up, judgment will come suddenly and without warning because we muzzled those who have had the word poured in them for years.

Furthermore, true church will break out in the parks, on beaches, on street corners, in the living rooms of homes, and places where traditional church is not being held. God is breaking out among his people. Those who dare to pray in private believing for a public demonstration of his mighty working power.

He is insulating us from the impending judgment that shall come forth. Oh, it is coming, but those who understand where the hiding place is will not be affected!!!! Let me share this before closing.

The camp I am currently on had been coming under fire every week. Rocket attacks and anything that could kill was being thrown at us. Many left here and went back home because of fear!! Two weeks ago I had a visitation from the Lord. He spoke to me and told me three angels were released to me. This was added to the angels already walking with me.

He showed me where they were placed around me at the time. One was in front of my living quarters, one was sitting on top of my living quarters, and one was in back of my living quarter.

Honestly, at first I thought it was just me, or my imagination working me. Though deep down I knew it was God, my mind was like, yea right!! He went on to tell me who the angels were. A warring angel, an angel of protection, and a ministering angel.

Again, I was tripping!! Many of you know my dad passed in December and I was really going through in my heart!! I could not get a grip folks. Crying every single day. Hurt to the core and wondered if I could go on. I had never gone through anything like this before.

The same night the angels came, my dad appeared in a dream to me. I know this sounds crazy, but I am telling you what happened to me. I really don't dream and when I do, it is significant most of the time. My dad began to speak to me about some things, then he said, " I have to pray for you! " He prayed for me and then left.

When I woke up, I was for lack of a better word TRIPPING!!! I don't deal with the dead!! I don't visit grave yards. As much as I miss him, he in my mind should stay where he is in peace, but he came to me and prayed for me.

Now, I would have taken it for just a dream, but what has followed has been amazing.

The ministering angel began to speak to me after the dream and gave me a series of instructions to follow. In obedience, I did what the angel told me to do, and I wound up finding some things I thought I had lost.

The other thing was, from that night on, I have not cried or shed a tear over the loss of my dad. It is like the sorrow was wiped away. I've been waiting for a moment or a time to hit me, but I have not had a feeling of sorrow since that night. I had not slept one night since arriving here in March. Not one!!

From that night on, I have not only rested, but slept like a baby every single night!!! But here is the mind blowing thing. This camp has not come under attack since that very night!! I have been watching and keeping up with the days and I'm telling you, all attacks on us stopped!!

I shared this with some others here and declared no more attacks!!

(I feel the Holy Ghost around me as I write this note to you all)

I'm experiencing divine protection in Jesus Name. The name of the Lord is a strong tower, the righteous (or those that hear and obey his voice) run in and are safe!!

This whole camp and those on it are protected because one whom God loves is on it. Yes, I can take it personal at this point because of the manifestation of God's love for me!! When you know Gods hand is on your life, you can take it personal that others are blessed because of their connection to you!!

For this reason God has to deliver us from church mindsets. A building cannot hold the praise that is getting ready to break out among us. Really, how much praise can I give God for this?

How about all day praise!! I love him, and adore him. He is the lifter of my head and the protector of my soul. I love you Jesus and I worship you!!

This is where I want to leave you. Our praise can cancel the attacks of the enemy. Our praise can war against that which wars against us.

Let me say this, A rocket landed among the living quarter right across from where I stay about a month ago. At least 12 living quarters were affected!!

If anyone had been in those quarters, there would have been lives lost.

But God!!

You all excuse me, I am about to lose it in this e-mail do you hear me!!

That is why I praise him!!

No one was home folks. The enemy came for lives, but he found none. There have been no civilian deaths since I arrived on this camp!! The assignments of the devil have been canceled and for that we rejoice! You don't know why you are being sent to places, but it is rarely for you. We are sent for others and in the midst of blessing others; we find the provision of blessing for ourselves.

I declare liberty in your lives today. You are free in the Holy Ghost. Go where the Lord sends you, and do what he has called you to do!! God bless you and know I pray for you daily! Be encouraged and walk in Love, for this is what will protect us from the enemy within!!
